CLASS SONG

Words and Music by BARBARA VANDERWARKER

To Ellsworth High we give our greatest praise,
Fond thoughts of it will live throughout our days.
To other classes we will leave the spirit of the school.
The class of forty sorry now to part,
We say this from our heart,
For with such training we have reached
And won the long sought goal.

CLASS POEM

Now has come the time for parting,
Our four years have been great fun,
And we've made each task a pleasure, classmates;
And the end we've sought is won.
Can't you see that we must leave you?
Can't you see that we must go?
Though 'twas here that we first met you, classmates,
And it's here we say adieu.

We should never be discouraged,
For with you in mind and sight
We shall always keep on striving, classmates;
Striving for the best and right.
Can't you hear your classmates calling?
Leading on to victory,
Can't you hear the echoes ringing, classmates;
Memories of dear old Ellsworth High.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF '40

We, the fourth graduating class of Ellsworth Memorial High School, situated in the town of South Windsor, County of Hartford, in the State of Connecticut, of the United States of America, being in a sound and philanthropic state of mind, do hereby bequeath the following:

To Jane Denning we leave Gladys Abbe's quietness.

To Frances McCutcheon we leave Ida Badstubner's ambition to go up the front stairs, rain or shine.

Jack Bassinger leaves all his corny jokes to Mr. Musgrave.

Bud Burger leaves his masterful voice to Gordon Carter.

Bill Blanchard, Jr., leaves his mighty realm of stories, plus one Jewish accent to anyone who wants it.

To Marie Reichle we leave Gladys Bragg's freckles. May they never fade.

Tony Buddes relinquishes his much-the-worse-for-wear Yankees to Eddie Kasheta.

To Martin Huehner we leave Mary Butenas's violin. May it never squeak!

Pauline Chapman leaves her job of doing dishes in the cafeteria, plus some Ivory soap to Laura Horton.

Ziggie Choinski leaves his height to George Bancroft. Zig says cigars help.

To Harriet Slawecki we leave Clara Clapp's long walk to school. May her arches never waver!

Margaret Coleman leaves her identification tag to Mary Spilka so that she will not get lost in Washington.

Ruth Dowd leaves her athletic ability to Barbara Burnham.

To Mr. Spring we leave Charlie Elinskas's art of doing Polish hops. Long may he wiggle!

Francis (Beanie) Fay relinquishes his "butch" to George Neelans. May it wave forever.

Mary Fetko leaves her ability to get along with the boys to her sister Catherine. At least she is keeping it in the family.

Elizabeth Geissler relinquishes her job of library attendant to anyone who can handle it.

To anyone who deserves it Eddie Gibbons leaves his much beloved "E."

David Goodenough leaves his brooms, plus his thorough knowledge of sweeping to Francis Boldway. Follow in his dust, Francis.

Wendell Grigley relinquishes his quiet, unassuming disposition to Jack Rauschenbach.

To Frank Kirchhof we leave Alex Gudzunas's thorough knowledge of economics. If you don't believe it, ask Coach.

Leah Harrington and Bud Burger leave their two back seats in room 35 to Ruth Bastien and Sherwood Waldron. This should help you along, Gimpy.

To any of the next year's Senior class visiting Washington Ted Hitchcock leaves the following advice: "If the room is too dark, do not try to remedy it by removing the chandelier. The results may prove disastrous."

Anne Jillson leaves her ability to talk to Shirley Enes.

Nancy Jones relinquishes her records to the next year's Senior class.

Celia Kalinauske and Ray Patria leave their two typewriters side by side to anyone who can think of enough excuses to get there.

To Dexter Burnham we leave Eddie Kamarowski's name "Mope" for next year's Senior Minstrel.

Helen Karkowski leaves her ability to roller skate to Mr. Reardon. This ought to help to keep him in form.

Jack Kearney relinquishes his oratorical ability to Bill Cooper.

To Anna Mae Turner we leave Helen Kindsor's pleasant way of greeting people.

Nelson Koehler leaves his shares in the Scantic River Steamboat Co., Inc., to Raymond Grigley.

To Betty Pilkin we leave Anne Krawfsky's patient unobtrusiveness. May she use it!

Ted Lasbury leaves advice to several Juniors on the subject of house detectives.

Mary Lorenc leaves the mimeograph, plus some inky hands to Eleanor Pola.

Charlie Muzykiewz relinquishes the privilege of leaning on the candy table to anyone who wants it.

To James Mackintosh we leave Clarence Nicholson's theory for curing procrastination.

Virginia Norton leaves her naive way of interviewing to her sister Eileen.

Ann O'Zemko relinquishes her Terpsichorean ability to Thelma Barry.

To the members of the next year's Senior class Roman Panek leaves his ways with the Freshmen; but he also leaves a warning that it is a long trek to Wapping!

Eleanor Pease leaves her ability to discriminate between strawberry and strawberry ice cream to Erma Hoffman. We hope strawberry will not be so many flavors under Erma.

Norman Petersen leaves his ability to catch goldfish in the lobby of the hotel to Joe Racz.

Josephine Petraitis relinquishes her inimitable style of note writing to some Freshman or Sophomore who has yet to be discovered.

To Porter Collins we leave Josephine Plaga's debating ability.

Joanne Potwin leaves her serious attitude of study to Victor Pilkin. May he benefit from it.

Edith Reed leaves her friendly smile to Pat Grant.

To Ray Roop we leave Edward Risley's position as chief engineer on the amplifier.

Janet Roe relinquishes her title as one of the most dignified girls at Ellsworth to Rita Grant.

Nellie Scurka leaves her typing ability to Mary Butenas.

To any of the next year's Senior class Harold Sheldick leaves his ability to get at least seven hours sleep a night while visiting Washington.

Carolyn Stewart leaves her ability to make friends to Alice Rittlinger.

Harold Thomas leaves his business ability to the business manager of the next year's year book.

To Connie Boroski we leave Pauline Titus's pleasing line of chatter.

Edward (Beezer) Toconis leaves his influence with Doberman Pinschers to anyone who likes dogs.

Pearl Tuttle relinquishes her out-of-school interests to George Hall.

Barbara Vanderwarker leaves her singing ability to Pearl Mahoney. We hope it will interest the bus drivers just as much in Washington.

Pat Vibert leaves her business-like ability to anyone who may so wish it with special request that it be called to the attention of the Federal Government.

Sherman Waldron relinquishes his self-possession to any Junior who will work hard to accomplish much.

William Watrous leaves his super-efficiency for the pecuniary interest of the class to whoever follows in his footsteps.

Leon Weskosky leaves his photographic example which we hope some of the Juniors may possess.

Elmer Whitehouse leaves his diplomacy in presiding over the Senior class and in helping his fellow classmates to the next year's president. May he accomplish as much.

To Lydia Muzykiewz we leave Ruth Wirth's ability to get to school early.

Anne Wolk relinquishes her ability to do good work under pressure and cantankerous attention even though built up) to Agnes Whitehouse.

Charles Woolam leaves his sartorial elegance to Gordon Dimlow.

Julia Yonika leaves her ways with prospective employers to any Junior who hopes to get a job before graduation, not to mention those after graduation.

Sophie Zawacky leaves her ability to get the music box before anyone else to David White.

Catherine Zawacky leaves her ability to get along without undue effort to Mary Cadder.

Lenna Bastien and Bill Welsh leave the much sought-after privilege of writing the class will to whomever the class elects.

In Testimony Whereof, we the Class of 1940, by Elmer Whitehouse, President; Zigmund Choinski, Vice-President; Leah Harrington, Secretary; and William Watrous, Treasurer; hereunto have written our signatures and affixed our official seal this thirty-first day of May, in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty.

Signed, sealed and declared by the Class of 1940 of Ellsworth Memorial High School, for its last will and testament in the presence of us; who at its request, in its presence, and in the presence of each other, have hereunto subscribed ourselves as witnesses, on this thirty-first day of May A. HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '40

Four years ago we, the Class of 1940, were given the honor and privilege of attending our own high school from beginning to end. We did not have to experience the difficulties of being outsiders as did preceding classes. Instead we were placed in an institution where friendliness and cooperation were prevalent.

Our first year was devoted to getting acquainted with our surroundings and each other. As we were a new school, customs, names and rules had to be established. Each of us did his bit in this responsible but enjoyable task.

To help the students from the different towns become acquainted the Freshmen-Sophomore party was held. This proved to be the outstanding social event of our Freshman year and was so successful that it has become a yearly event.

Our Sophomore year found us well established at Ellsworth and after the election of our class officers who were President, Ronald Steitz; Vice President, Earl Miller; Secretary, Julia Yonika; and Treasurer, Zigmund Choinski; we spent an enjoyable year studying and participating in outside activities.

The Junior Promenade was probably the most gala affair held during our third year. This dance aided us financially as well as furnishing pleasure for its participants.

The talent of our classmates was now beginning to show. The masculine lead in the school play was held by Jack Kearney. Reynold Burger, Norman Petersen, and Charles Muzykiewz were starring on the boys' basketball team, while Ruth Dowd was playing with the girls and cheer leading. Many other members of the class were active too. Our Junior class officers were Sherman Waldron, President; Elmer Whitehouse, Vice President; Lenna Bastien, Secretary; and William Watrous, Treasurer.

Our Senior year at Ellsworth brought with it the completion of our education and high school life. To start off what has proved to be a wonderful year the Senior Get-to-Gether was held. This helped renew friendships and get everyone in spirit for the coming season.

To introduce the coming athletic season the S. C. H. E. Club, headed by President Julia Yonika, sponsored the Sports Dance, an annual affair. Due to the efforts of these girls a delightful evening was had by those who attended.

Many class members were now on athletic teams. Representatives in basketball were boys: Reynold Burger, Edward Gibbons, Co-captains Charles Muzykiewz, Norman Petersen and Leon Weskosky; girls: Ida Badstubner, Captain Ruth Dowd, Elizabeth Geissler, and Ann O'Zemko.

Our classmates who have supported our teams by their regular attendance and good will should not be overlooked. They do not do the actual playing but a team could not exist without them. Leaders alone do not make success.

Next year Ellsworth's soccer team will lose William Blanchard, Wendell Grigley, Captain Charles Muzykiewz, Edward Toconis, and Sherman Waldron.

Last fall a new sport was introduced at Ellsworth. Coached by Miss Salipante, the girls were taught to play Field Hockey. Many Senior girls participated and the game was so enjoyable it became an established sport.

To promote organized cheering and encourage our teams five cheer leaders are chosen. Of these five, Ruth Dowd, Carolyn Stewart and Anne Wolk were Seniors. Throughout the year these girls have presented a fine appearance and have done a great deal toward keeping Ellsworth's noted reputation for good sportsmanship.

Three of the Dramatic Club's officers are members of the Class of 1940. They are Vice President, Patricia Vibert; Treasurer, Virginia Norton and Secretary, Joanne Potwin. In this year's presentation "Nothing But the Truth," Jack Kearney and Carolyn Stewart held important roles. One half of the profits from this play went toward financing our Washington trip.

The Senior Minstrel was also held for the above mentioned purpose. Aided by many underclassmen, the seniors presented a well organized show to a capacity crowd.

The last week in April brought to us the long anticipated trip to Washington, D. C. Although this is primarily an educational trip, it furnished practical experience to those of us who had never before traveled or stayed at a hotel.

As a reward for their years of study, Edward Risley and Julia Yonika were chosen Valedictorian and Salutatorian respectively.

At this time I should like to compliment our Senior class officers, Elmer Whitehouse, President; Zigmund Choinski, Vice President; Leah Harrington, Secretary; and William Watrous, Treasurer. The committee members who have served our class so diligently without receiving personal glory but who have done a great deal for our class deserve a great deal of credit, and again those who make events possible by their regular attendance.

Now as graduation approaches, we discover this is not a time of merriment as we had anticipated; but rather a time of reminiscence over past pleasures and sorrow at leaving our friends, both faculty and classmates, at Ellsworth Memorial High School.

CLASS PROPHECY

Walking down Fifth Avenue of New York one summer day in the year of 1965, the writers of this prophecy heard a newsboy shout, "Extra! Extra! Read all about it. Jack Kearney celebrates his 25th anniversary as publisher and editor of the 'Daily Gazette.'" Astonished, your reporters stopped to see if this were the same Jack Kearney with whom we graduated in 1940. Upon reading the paper, we found that it contained information as to what our graduating class is now doing.

Under the society column, edited by our classmate, Eleanor Pease, we found that Nelson Koehler, who had just opened a night club in Broad Brook, is employing some of our former classmates. Ida Badstubner has popularized many of the new songs here. Ann O'Zemko is featured as a dancer in the Variety Review. Balancing many trays daily is to Clarence Nicholson, the singing waiter, just part of his job.

Turning to the sport's page, we found that Tony Buddes is the new manager of the New York Yankees. We noticed farther down on the page an article stating that Charlie Muzykiewz, the famous basketball player, was one of the after-dinner speakers at a local banquet. On the page devoted to the 1965 Olympics, there was a picture of Eddie Gibbons, who has set a new record for the discus throw. Charlie Woolam, who is now teaching skiing at Sun Valley, Idaho, won the skiing tournament at these Olympics.

As we turned the page, we noticed the names of two of our musically inclined classmates. Barbara Vanderwarker has just made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera with Mary Fetko accompanying her. On the same page there was a picture of Janet Roe, the radio star, and Carolyn Stewart, the motion picture actress, who with her private secretary, Anne Wolk, were being besieged by admirers as they left the radio station.

Glancing at the South Windsor news, we noticed the announcement of the opening of Ted Lasbury's race track. For hungry racing enthusiasts, Ray Patria's Spaghetti Palace is next door. Around the corner is the famous hotel owned by Mary Lorenc and Helen Kindson, featuring the food by the renowned dieticians, Joanne Potwin, and Nancy Jones. This hotel has recently been painted and refinished by David Goodenough.

Now to return to good old Ellsworth Memorial High School. We found that some of our former classmates are employed here. Norman Petersen is the new athletic instructor. Gladys Bragg is teaching Latin, and Pauline Titus, and Josephine Plaga are teaching the science subjects. Pauline and Josephine have discovered how many times a frog winks in a minute. Pauline Chapman, who received much of her experience while in school, is now managing the cafeteria. Jack Bassinger, who owns a bakery in Warehouse Point, supplies the school cafeteria with his delicious pastries. The potatoes eaten by the ravenous students are bought from Margaret Coleman. Margaret has recently discovered a new method for raising bigger and better potatoes. As many of the students drive their cars to school, it was necessary to station a policeman, who is none other than Bud Burger. Most of the cars are bought from Bill Blanchard, who owns a garage near the school. Bill Welsh and Ted Hitchcock drive buses for the pupils who desire this form of transportation. During their spare moments, they show tourists the many attractions of East and South Windsor.

Next door is Roman Panek's drug store, which is a favorite meeting place of many after school socials. Alex Gudzunas is soda jerker here. We noticed an article on the next soft ball game which will be held in the Ellsworth Stadium. Elizabeth Geissler will be the starting pitcher for the team, sponsored by Panek's Drug Store. Across from the high school is the exclusive nursery owned by Edith Reed and Clara Clapp. We noticed that Sherman Waldron, the town doctor, has invented a medicine to keep the pupils awake during class. We read with a great deal of interest the item telling about the amusement park owned by Josephine Petraitis and Charles Elinskas. It is an exact reproduction of Glen Echo Park, Washington. Harold Thomas is the manager of tickets.

Next we read the Broad Brook news. We discovered that Bill Watrous had recently been elected president of the Broad Brook Bank. The Broad Brook pond and some of the surrounding land have been made into a fashionable year-round resort by Nellie Scurka and Catherine Zawacky. Upon the next page in large letters was the advertisement that Eddie Kamarowski's circus was coming to Broad Brook the following week. It was featuring the world famous acrobat, Helen Karkowski; the little man with the big appetite, Ziggy Choinski; and the internationally known clown, Edward "Beezer" Toconis.

The Warehouse Point news brought to our attention the fact that Francis Fay has been operating bowling alleys for ten years. Julie Yonika and Virginia Norton, well known interior decorators, have recently re-decorated the exclusive department store owned by Mary Butenas and Celia Kalinauske. Ruth Wirth is a personal shopper for them.

Our attention was called to the advertisement announcing the re-opening of Sophie Zawacky's tea room which caters to tired salesmen. This is probably Wendell Grigely's favorite stopping place as he now sells business machines. The new shop was built by Leon Weskosky.

We next read that Edward Risley, Professor of Biology at Yale, has just published a book entitled "Plants Grown Chemically." Next we noticed an advertisement about the book, "Gags and Wags," which was written by the well known funsters, Ruth Dowd and Lenna Bastien. Ann Jillson, a business executive in a New York department store, has written a book entitled "Eight Hours of Steady Work."

Next we read the large headlines which said that seven former graduates will leave on the airplane "Americano." As we read it, we found that Leah Harrington was the stewardess on the plane. Gladys Abbe, an outstanding debator, was going to a peace conference. Harold Sheldick, a leading politician of the day, and Elmer Whitehouse, new general of the army, were also called to the conference. Patricia Vibert, outstanding designer of teen age clothes was going to Paris to get some ideas for the fall fashions. Ann Krawfsky is accompanying Patricia to sketch the clothes. Pearl Tuttle, who is noted for her advanced hair styles, is going abroad to get more ideas for her beauty salon.

The wind snatched the paper from our hands, and we were left with pleasant thoughts of our classmates of 1940.

Students who have received varsity letters are members of this club.

The Varsity Club last year started the Pep Club which has continued on through this year. New pins were adopted for the Pep Club.

HI-Y CLUB OFFICERS

The Hi-Y Club was reorganized this year with the plan that the initiative should come from within the club, and the boys were responsible for any activities which were done.

Community work was done at Christmas and Thanksgiving to cheer those who might be alone and have no relatives to cheer them.

The meetings which were held proved to be interesting both educationally and socially.

Front Row, Left to Right: Reynold Burger, Lenna Bastien, Norman Petersen, Ruth Dowd, Barbara Burnham.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association, under the leadership and direction of Mr. Greer and Mr. Reardon, had a higher membership than ever before and was on a firmer financial basis. The Club sponsored the cheer leaders' equipment, and a girls' field hockey team was organized.

CHEER LEADERS

Dressed in maroon skirts and gold blouses our cheer leaders lent color and vivacity to the atmosphere of the cheering section. With only one veteran cheer leader the girls did remarkably well in directing the moral support of our teams.

First Row, Left to Right: Lenna Bastien, Anne O'Zemko, Ruth Dowd, Gladys Abbe, Patricia Vibert, Elizabeth Geissler, Virginia Norton, Helen Karkowski, Joanne Potwin.

GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY TEAM

Field Hockey, a new sport in our school, was welcomed as an additional girls' activity. Under the direction of Miss Salipante, it proved a great success.

First Row, Left to Right: Barbara Burnham, Lydia Muzykiewz, Elizabeth Geissler, Ruth Dowd, Marie Reichle, Mabel Sargent.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

Although the girls' team did not go through the season undefeated, they had a very successful season.

This year Miss Salipante has assisted Mr. Greer in the coaching of the girls' basketball team and other sports. Miss Schlichting has also assisted in the past two years.

SOCER SQUAD

The Soccer Team, under the direction of Mr. Greer, had a most successful season this year. They played twelve games, winning eleven and tying one.

BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

The boys' basketball team has enjoyed a most successful season. Under the guiding hand of Mr. Greer, the boys managed to capture the Class C-D Trophy for the second successive year.

Petersen, Muzykiewz, and Pease made the all-star team, and Burger and Sherwood Waldron received honorable mention.

First Row, Left to Right: James Mackintosh, Francis Lynch, Raymond Patria, Edward Toconis, William Blanchard, Tony Buddes, Clarence Nicholson, Jack Pease, William Cooper, Leo Fiori.

BOYS' TRACK TEAM

This is the third year in which Ellsworth has had an organized track team, and the prospects are again bright.

The team started off with a 83-21 triumph over Bloomfield and an $88\frac{1}{2}$ - $25\frac{1}{2}$ win over Windsor. At the State Relays Ellsworth placed first in the 440 relay, the one mile relay, and the two mile relay; second in the 880 relay, and fourth in the medley relay.

Martin Huehner tied the State Relay record with a winning high jump of five feet six inches, and Donald Schlichting placed third in the discus.

The team is again pointing towards the State Meet at Yale where it will attempt to win the Class C-D Championship which was won by Ellsworth last year.
